MITCHELL B. DUBICK

HFM Partner Mitch Dubick concentrates his practice in tax controversy matters, representing individuals and business entities before the IRS and all state taxing authorities, and his work also includes business, real estate, and tax planning.

Mr. Dubick's years of experience and cost-effective solutions have made him the choice of clients, accountants, and other lawyers to handle their tax disputes, including audits, overdue returns, offshore accounts, appeals, employee/independent contractor status, collection matters (including liens and levies), installment agreements and Offers in Compromise.

In several noteworthy matters, Mr. Dubick has:

- ▶ Persuaded the IRS in a Tax Court case to concede more than $10,000,000 in proposed taxes and refunds.
- ▶ Permitted struggling businesses to avoid threatened closure by both federal and state tax agencies, including a recently negotiated installment agreement with the IRS allowing the business to escape from over $11,000,000 in back taxes.
- ▶ Secured an installment agreement allowing an elderly taxpayer to pay only $1,000 per month for the rest of his life even though his tax debt was almost $2,000,000 and he had assets worth more than $1,000,000.
- ▶ Obtained tax and penalty relief for taxpayers with undisclosed foreign bank accounts.
- ▶ Negotiated Offers in Compromise with the IRS, FTB, EDD, and SBE (now CDTFA).
- ▶ Successfully concluded civil audits and appeals and criminal fraud investigations.
- ▶ Tried one of the first cases before the new California Office of Tax Appeals, relieving a chief financial officer of $1,000,000 of his company's unpaid sales taxes.
