VALUE AND SERVICE ARE PARAMOUNT TO HFM'S APPROACH TO EACH CLIENT MATTER

The collective advocacy experience, industry expertise, trial skills and forward-looking focus of our team rival that of any global law firm, yet HFM's size allows us to serve clients with a high-touch level of service often typical of a much smaller law firm. In part, this service model is predicated by a simple set of core values that have guided the Firm since its inception, including each attorney's commitment to adopting their clients issues and challenges as their own, engaging in their clients' success through creative problem solving, and always being prepared, loyal, honest, responsive and above all, professional.

A HOMEGROWN SAN DIEGO LAW FIRM

Service to the community has always been a considerable part of HFM's culture. Through volunteerism, pro bono work and financial support for various non-profit and professional organizations, HFM takes pride in being able to support efforts and initiatives that allow the Firm's staff and attorneys to allocate time and resources to meaningful causes. HFM attorneys play an active role in professional organizations to establish best practices, build meaningful relationships, and gain insight on the critical issues facing businesses today. Additionally, our attorneys provide pro bono services to numerous organizations and individuals and serve on a variety of non-profit boards throughout the city.

A CHAMPION OF DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION EFFORTS

HFM is committed to creating a law firm that is representative of the Firm's client base and the community in which we practice law. We support local and national diversity efforts, organizations and pipeline programs in various ways, including participating in the San Diego County Bar Association's annual Diversity Fellowship Program since the program began and providing sponsorship support to multiple minority bar associations.

RECOGNIZED FOR OUR EXPERTISE

We take more pride in the work that we do every day on behalf of our clients and our community than any award could possibly indicate, however, HFM is honored to have received a great deal of recognition for our work and for our attorneys across nearly every practice area and industry. You can find highlights of our recent awards and recognitions at www.higgslaw.com/awards. Our greatest accomplishments, however, are in the results we are able to obtain for our clients, and the longstanding relationships we have formed with clients across many industries in San Diego and beyond.
